

MEET YOUR LOCAL AUTHORS

An Afternoon with Dan Linehan

Scientist, Educator, Scholar, Journalist, Novelist, Poet, and Much More than Enough Accomplishments to Take Your Breath Away

Monday, May 11, 2026

West Room, 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Focusing on creativity, education, and outreach, Dan Linehan is passionate about mixing arts and sciences for multimedia storytelling that engages, inspires, and empowers. For over twenty years he has addressed climate, wildlife, and other environmental issues. An award-winning interactive and multimedia series, The Princess of the Bottom of the World is his latest book and is based on his time studying these interests in Antarctica, Argentina, and other regions. Dan has well over 100 publications and has received many honors for his work. (p.s., there is a heartwarming love story embedded in his “The Princess...” series. Come hear him tell you about it. Not to be missed).
